Plantpeddler is looking to build a new retail facility along Highway 9. They will have customer parking on the west side. They would like to have their employees park on the north side, and in order for this to happen, the employees would need access through City property. The most likely spot would be between the Water Works building and Harvey's. This area is a little undeveloped, so it would need a little attention to be used as a driveway. There may be some snow issues, as well. Someone from Plantpeddler will be at the meeting.

Upper Explorerland Regional Planning Commission (UERPC) is a council of governments that delivers a range of customized planning, advisory and resource development services to the incorporated and unincorporated areas of Northeast Iowa. Our service area includes Allamakee, Clayton, Fayette, Howard and Winneshiek Counties. The Commission was formed in 1972 by the cities and counties in the region under Iowa Code Chapter 28H. Since then, UERPC has successfully obtained over $291 million in grant funds for the area and have facilitated many planning projects throughout the region.

The Commission’s goal has been to provide cities and counties with creative and practical consulting services at the most reasonable cost possible to enable our governments to efficiently and effectively meet their goals and objectives. Because we are a governmental entity, we do not have to operate at a profit, compared to a private consulting firm. The goal of the Commission can be summarized by the text in Chapter 28H: “The Commission shall be the coordinating body for all units of government in the service area, an organization directed toward challenging problems of mutual interest and concern and providing a platform of information and coordination towards the solution of these problems.”

The UERPC team has deep knowledge of and connections to the communities across the region. We live, work and play here, so have an inherent interest in seeing our localities thrive. We regularly engage with local leaders and stakeholders on various projects, make a habit of sharing opportunities and resources to help address local needs, and bring a lot of enthusiasm and heart to helping communities move forward on their priorities.

UERPC is managed by Executive Director Rachelle Howe and governed by a board of directors representative of the five-county region. Board members include:

Experience and Qualifications

Experience

UERPC has a long history of comprehensive planning, having completed plans for several communities in the region (e.g. Waukon, Decorah, Guttenberg, etc.), as well as countywide plans for Allamakee, Clayton, Fayette, and Winneshiek Counties. As you are aware, we also assisted with the last update to the Cresco Comprehensive Plan. Please visit the UERPC website to view a full list of communities and plans the organization has assisted with: <https://uerpc.org/planning-and-facilitation/>.

Further, we provide code of ordinance updates to communities around the region, including codifying and formatting, incorporating ordinance amendments, addressing updates necessitated by Iowa Code, and working with officials and staff to identify other ordinance needs and to create a final product clear and useful to the community. UERPC has assisted with 15 code updates since 2016.

Planning Approach and Methods

Planning Philosophy

UERPC’s planning philosophy is based on the importance of a clearly defined planning need and process, stakeholder input, the sharing of knowledge and information to assist with priority setting, and attention to plan implementation. Understanding the unique challenges and opportunities of each community is essential, and we make a point of engaging diverse and representative stakeholder groups to ensure a relevant product. Each plan should be a useful tool specifically designed to guide the city’s decision-making processes and ensure implementation of the goals and strategies identified.

Planning Methods

Smart Planning Framework

A Comprehensive Plan is a broad document that studies and inventories the current and projected conditions within the community. It is a long-term document, typically looking out 10 – 20 years. UERPC follows Iowa’s Smart Planning Guidelines for comprehensive planning, which prioritize producing economic opportunity, enhancing environmental integrity, improving public health outcomes, safeguarding quality of life, and providing equitable decision-making. Smart Planning Guidelines identify 13 elements included in a comprehensive plan which serve as the basis for each chapter in the plan:

- Public Participation
- Issues and Opportunities
- Land Use
- Housing
- Public Infrastructure and Utilities
- Transportation
- Economic Development
- Agriculture and Natural Resources
- Community Facilities
- Community Character and Culture
- Hazards
- Intergovernmental Collaboration
- Implementation

Collaboration and Engagement

Collaboration is key to planning. UERPC staff anticipates working in conjunction with a Steering Committee, Focus Groups, and city staff and commissions:

Plan Steering Committee – Comprehensive planning begins with the formation of a steering committee incorporating representatives with diverse backgrounds and experiences in social, economic, and cultural spheres. Active community members with a keen interest in the future of your community may also like to be involved. City staff, official, and commission representation is also recommended. Steering committee members will provide information to facilitate a robust planning process, give feedback on plan data and strategies, and participate in meetings in support of plan objectives.

Focus Groups – Over the course of two days, focus groups comprised of Steering Committee members and knowledge experts meet in back-to-back sessions to review and discuss plan data. Focus groups help draw out key issues and opportunities based on their review of the research and community input, and their specific background or interest. This provides an essential step in moving from the data gathering phase to the goal setting phase of the planning process.

Comprehensive plans also require meaningful public input, which provides an opportunity to assess community needs and priorities, to get plan buy-in, and to coordinate on implementation strategies. UERPC provides numerous public engagement opportunities, including:

Stakeholder Interviews – One-on-one interviews with a representative group of stakeholders able to provide further insight into the state of the community, focusing on issues addressed in the comprehensive plan (housing, economic development, etc.).

Community Survey – A community survey will be created with the assistance of the Steering Committee and city staff. The survey will be electronic (with a hard copy option) and will be designed to gather information about the community, as well as preferences and opinions relevant to the plan process. Survey Monkey or ArcGIS Survey123 survey tools will be employed in the creation of the survey. These platforms create simple, user-friendly surveys, and a means for easily summarizing and visualizing survey results.

Community Event Tables – Planners will coordinate with city staff to identify and attend up to two popular community events to disseminate plan information and gather community input. A table will be provided with community survey information, plan materials, and exercises for providing thoughts on the future of Cresco.

Public Visioning Session – A public visioning session will be devoted to creating a community vision statement for the future, as well as focused vision statements for each smart planning element (e.g. economic development, housing, etc.). This session is interactive and fun, encouraging participants to complete an Appreciative Inquiry process to “discover” values and assets in their community, and “dream” of (create a vision for) the future.

Goal Setting Open House - A public open house will be held to receive feedback on plan goals and strategies. Applicable data and information will be shared with participants, as well as large scale posters illustrating draft goals and strategies. Attendees have an opportunity to vote on and provide feedback on plan goals, leading to narrowing and prioritization of the goals.

Draft Plan Review & Online Feedback – A finalized draft of the plan will be noticed and available for public review at the city building and online. A webpage will be made available for the submission of comments regarding the plan. All public feedback will be assessed and incorporated as needed prior to plan finalization.

Plan Boards at Public Location – Large scale plan boards will be available for public review at public locations, in concert with the public draft plan review and comment period.

Based on the scope of services solidified with Cresco, planning services can be further expanded to serve community needs, such as providing guidance on potential updates to city code dependent on plan outcomes, additional engagement mechanisms (e.g. brainstorming tours, etc.), and design-oriented planning assistance. Additional services will require an update to quoted fees.

Technology and Presentation

UERPC planners employ a variety of tools to gather, analyze and communicate plan information. In addition to basic spreadsheet and word processing programs, UERPC employs Geographic Information Systems (ArcGIS Pro) for mapping and data analysis, Adobe Photoshop and Illustrator for visualization of information and creation of graphics, and Microsoft Power Point for final plan formatting and sharing. Some meetings can be designed to provide a virtual attendance option.

Communication and Outreach

Outreach and communication about the planning project occur via a plan webpage (hosted on the UERPC website and shared via partner websites), social media outreach in coordination with plan partners, email list serves and communications, press releases, and hard copy materials and distribution (e.g. flyers, newsletters/bill distribution, postcards, etc.). Public outreach strategies are discussed with city staff and Steering Committee members at the outset of the project to establish best mechanisms for outreach based on local conditions and capabilities.

Deliverables

UERPC works with the city to produce an updated Comprehensive Plan. Comprehensive Plan deliverables include a printed and electronic copy of the final Comprehensive Plan and a large-scale future land use map.

To: The City of Cresco

My name is Matt Beck and I have a utility bill with the City of Cresco. On September 5th, 2024 I went to pay my water bill with a credit card at city hall and the system was not working so I could not pay at that time. The next day, I stopped in again and the payment seemed to go through. After I left, my card showed that I was charged but was later sent a delinquent notice because turns out the city did not finalize the transaction. I stopped in again and paid the late fee, but I don't feel it is fair for me to have to pay the late fee when I stopped in and was told the payment went through. I am requesting a refund for the late fee on my account.

Thanks for your time.

Hello Cresco City Works,

I hope everyone is well and enjoying the start to fall. I am writing today to request some forgiveness on the sewer charges for "house meter" for Shady Oak trailer park at 701 S Elm St. Lot 07 account number 7079014 for the service period of 07/19/24 to 09/13/24. It was discovered that the tenant's pipe leading to his external hose bib had a leak causing excess use. They stopped the leak and have been going through some health issues and I would really like to help them lower their bill as one less burden on them. Please let me know what else you need to allow this to be approved.

Warm regards,

Derek Dittmer
